MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF THE EILAND LAW FIRM'S MOTION FOR AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES

INTRODUCTION

Pursuant to the Court's April 10, 2018 Order Preliminarily Approving Settlement and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23, the Law Offices of A. Craig Eiland, PC (the "Eiland Law Firm") on behalf of the Firm and its clients, respectfully asks this Court to award it attorneys' fees and expenses, in an amount equal to its contingency fee interest (typically, 33 and 1/3% plus expenses) for its clients who make a settlement claim and receive a settlement award. The Eiland Firm seeks payment of the contractually agreed upon fees and expense reimbursement from any fund created to pay attorneys' fees and expenses arising out the recently preliminarily approved Syngenta Litigation settlement (the "Fund"). In the alternative, and mainly for the purposes of cross-checking, the Eiland Law Firm respectfully asks this Court to award it attorneys' fees in the amount of $7,300,937 and $53,685 in expenses incurred, for a total of $7,354,622. The Eiland Law Firm's request for fees and expenses is fair and reasonable when analyzed under either the lodestar or the percentage of the fund approach, and is supported by the law of this district and the Tenth Circuit.

The Eiland Law Firm currently has 834 cases on file in Williamson County, Illinois. As such, we are filing this pleading in the United States District Court of Kansas (Case No. 2:14-md-02591).

Each client of the firm entered into a contingency fee contract. The Eiland Law Firm vigorously represented its clients throughout this litigation and earned the fee contemplated under these contracts. The Eiland Law Firm kept its clients informed of the litigation developments, obtained records from clients to establish their damages, objected to certain portions of the original class notice, opted the majority of its clients out of the class action, filed the clients' lawsuits against Syngenta, participated in discovery, assisted in expert development, and are now helping clients file their settlement claim form.

BACKGROUND

This Court is intimately familiar with the history of this case, and a detailed case history will not be repeated here. This petition will focus on the Eiland Law Firm's contributions to the litigation and settlement on behalf of its clients and all producers across the country. As described below, the Eiland Law Firm coordinated with other law firms who opted their clients out of the class action and filed Illinois state and federal court cases, and took an active role in Illinois state and federal court in order to move the global litigation forward, all while working to prosecute the individual claims of the Eiland Law Firm's producer and landlord clients.

I. Eiland Law Firm's Representation of Individual Clients.

A. Clients Represented by the Eiland Law Firm

The Eiland Law Firm represents 1146 producers and landlords comprising approximately 900,000 acres of corn. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 3. Throughout the pendency of this litigation, and as outlined below, the Eiland firm has been committed to working up each individual claim, preparing claims for litigation or resolution, and keeping clients up-to-date on all news and developments in this case. In exchange for its services in this case, the Eiland firm operated on a contingency basis that ranged from 30% (plus expenses) to 40% (no expenses). A list of the Eiland Law Firm's clients is attached as Exhibit A to the Eiland Declaration in Support of this Motion (Exhibit A filed under seal). The Eiland firm spent years meeting with farmers across the country, primarily in Nebraska, Texas, and Iowa to discuss their options with respect to recovering some or all of their losses caused by Syngenta's premature commercialization of Viptera and Duracade corn seed.

B. Client Updates and Claims Preparation

As part of the Eiland Law Firm's ongoing commitment to its clients, each client received both periodic update letters and additional update letters when key events occurred during the course of the litigation. In addition, with every correspondence, each client was reminded that their FSA 578s, crop insurance, seed corn purchases, grain sales information, and settlement statements were needed and that we were here for them to answer any questions that they may have – again, regarding either their case in particular or the case against Syngenta generally. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 11. In short, unlike a member of a class during the pendency of a case, each client had the opportunity to make decisions on their own case and to have a law firm available to update them and answer whatever questions they may have.

With respect to assisting its clients in gathering and reviewing the farm records initially required by the Court in order to pursue a claim, the Eiland Law Firm reviewed and analyzed approximately 50,000 pages of client farm records. These records include FSA Form 578s, crop insurance, seed corn purchase information, grain sales contracts, and settlement statements. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 12.

C. Excluding Clients From the Class Action

During the opt-out period of the case, the Eiland Law Firm counselled its clients regarding their decision to opt-out or stay in the nationwide class. Believing that it was in their best interest to opt-out (in terms of an increased recovery of their individualized damages) and that individual claims were the key to creating litigation pressure that would eventually result in a settlement, the Eiland Law Firm advised the majority of its clients to opt-out of the nationwide class. Over 92% of the Eiland Law Firm's client excluded themselves from the class action. The Eiland Law Firm believed that pressure from multiple fronts would lead to faster resolution. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 13. It was important that litigation was being pursued on a class action and individual basis by multiple firms in Kansas Federal Court, Minnesota State Court, Illinois Federal Court, and Illinois State Court, as well as multiple individual cases on behalf of ethanol plants.

D. Filing Clients' Lawsuits in the Williamson County, Illinois Consolidation

The Eiland Law Firm has over 800 cases on file in front of Judge Bleyer in the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit in Williamson County, Illinois. Eiland Dec. at 14. The Eiland Law Firm has been working in conjunction with Lead Counsel in this Illinois consolidation. The Eiland Law Firm has attended and participated in status conferences, has been involved in various briefing efforts, and was involved in reviewing documents, and prepping detailed witness summaries and deposition outlines, amongst other activities that helped keep the litigation pressure on Syngenta. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 15.

E. Ongoing Research and Analysis

Throughout the course of this litigation, The Eiland Law Firm has spent a significant amount of time on researching various issues on behalf of its clients, much of which benefitted all producers. This included an analysis of the application of the economic loss doctrine (particularly, as it is applied in Nebraska and Texas) and an analysis of cross-jurisdictional and intra-jurisdictional class action tolling law based on the principles set forth in America Pipe & Const. Co. v. Utah, 414 U.S. 538 (1974). Eiland Dec. at ¶ 16. In addition, the Eiland Law Firm has spent a significant amount of time, along with other coordinating Illinois opt-out counsel, researching and investigating opening another avenue for state court litigation against Syngenta in New York. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 17.

F. Settlement and Claim Form Work

When the tentative settlement agreement was announced in October 2017, the Eiland Law Firm sent update letters to its clients, explaining the facts of the proposed settlement and answering anticipated questions. During the pendency of the settlement negotiations, The Eiland Law Firm sent additional update letters to its clients in an effort to keep them properly informed. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 18. Once the final settlement was reached, and in accordance with the Court's guidelines, the Eiland Law Firm sent a settlement packet to each client informing them of the details of the settlement, recommending the settlement to them, and, more importantly, sending them Claim Forms with a significant amount of information pre-filled, along with instructions for completing and submitting the Claim Forms. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 18. This process has been extremely helpful to our clients. The Eiland Law Firm continues to assist its clients in completing and submitting Claim Forms and answering any questions that its clients have about the settlement and claims process. To date, the Eiland Law Firm has assisted nearly 70% of its clients in preparing and finalizing Claim Forms. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 19. The Eiland Law Firm will continue this process until all of its client's claims are submitted.

The Eiland Law Firm has invested heavily in this case from the very beginning. It has spent considerable time and resources litigating its client's cases and has spent considerable time interacting with its clients and working on their behalf. These activities, and the benefit they conferred, justify the Eiland Law Firm's fee request.

II. The Eiland Law Firm's Involvement in State Court Opt-Out Litigation For the Common Benefit of All Producers.

The Eiland Law Firm has been actively working for the common benefit of all producers in this litigation. The Eiland Law and the Clark/Phipps/Flowers/Johnson Group conferred almost daily for over three years on strategic decisions in these cases. This list provides some tasks that the Eiland Law Firm worked on the common benefit of all producers:

- Researching case law and drafting complaints and amended pleadings;

- Researching case law on various aspects of the litigation including the economic loss doctrine, damages, jurisdiction, and venue;
- Preparing for hearings on various motions;
- Strategizing over the scope of Syngenta's responses to Plaintiffs' discovery requests;
- Attending case management conferences;
- Monitoring filings and rulings and the potential impact on opt-out litigation;
- Meeting with opt-out Plaintiffs' regulatory and damages experts;
- Participating in reviewing Syngenta's document production;
- Assisting in drafting of complaints, motions, and responses to motions filed by Syngenta; and
- Filing individual opt-out cases in Illinois State Court.

With respect to the document review efforts, the Eiland Law Firm spent well over 300 hours reviewing Syngenta's document production and preparing custodial files and deposition outlines for several key witnesses. This work was part of a coordinated effort with other Illinois state and federal court coordinating law firms to apply additional pressure on Syngenta in order move litigation forward and towards a global settlement and, as such, provided a common benefit to all producers in this litigation.

ARGUMENTS AND AUTHORITIES

The significant efforts of plaintiffs' lawyers across the United States, including the Eiland Law Firm, contributed to the global settlement of claims against Syngenta that created a "common fund" of $1.51 billion dollars. This Court has broad authority over the award of attorneys' fees in this case. Law v. N.C.A.A., 4 Fed. Appx. 749, 751 (10th Cir. 2001). This authority is vested in the Court by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(h). Harlow v. Sprint Nextel Corp., No. 08-2222-KHV, 2018 WL 2568044, at *6 (D. Kan. June 4, 2018). Rule 23(h) also provides that any claim for an award must be made by a motion under Rule 54(d)(2). Importantly, the Tenth Circuit has recognized that it is appropriate to award attorneys' fees to non-designated counsel, where the non-designated counsel's work contributes to the creation of the common fund. Gottlieb v. Barry, 43 F.3d 474, 488 (10th Cir. 1994).

Although it was not designated as class counsel, the Eiland Law Firm's work contributed to the creation of the common fund. Its request for fees and reimbursement is reasonable under both the lodestar and percentage of the fund calculations. Therefore, the Court should grant the Eiland Law Firm's request for fees and expense reimbursement.

I. The Eiland Law Firm is Entitled to a Fee Award from the Settlement Fund Because its Work Advanced the Interests of All Plaintiffs.

The Tenth Circuit has explicitly recognized that, in class actions, awards for attorneys' fees and reimbursement from a common fund are not limited to court-appointed class counsel. Gottlieb, 43 F.3d at 488–89. In Gottlieb, the Tenth Circuit reversed the district court's denial of fees to non-designated counsel where the record indicated that the work of the non-designated counsel conferred a benefit upon the class. Id.

The Eiland Law Firm and other firms that opted their clients out of the class action and filed and pursued state court and federal court opt-out cases, were obviously a significant factor in bringing about the overall class settlement. The importance of the opt-out litigation is reflected in the Settlement Agreement whereby Syngenta maintains "walk away" rights if significant numbers of the opt-outs do not participate in the settlement, while it is irrelevant how many class members participate.

The "Most Favored Nations" clause is also significant evidence that Syngenta wanted to pressure the opt-out litigants, like the Eiland Law Firm clients, into the settlement. Finally, this Court (and the Minnesota and Illinois Courts) obviously recognized the impact of opt-out litigants by appointing two of the four Settlement Committee members to represent opt-out litigants.

It cannot be denied that “opting out” of the nationwide class played a significant part in the settlement process and these additional lawsuits were a driver of the settlement. The Eiland Law Firm and its over 1100 clients did more than their fair share of the work to keep up the pressure on Syngenta. These efforts conferred a benefit on the entire class, not just the Eiland Law Firm clients.

II. The Eiland Law Firm’s Fee Request is Reasonable.

The Eiland Law Firm believes the Court should award the firm its contracted contingent fee. That said, in the alternative or as a cross-check, its fee request is reasonable under either a lodestar rate, a percentage of the fund, or a hybrid of these options.

A. The Eiland Law Firm’s Contingency Fee Agreements

As previously mentioned, the Eiland Law Firm represented its individual clients on a contingency fee basis. The Eiland Law Firm fulfilled its obligations under those contracts. As such, it is requesting that its fee agreements be enforced and it receive the actual amount of contingency fees that it would have been entitled to – calculated off of its clients’ eventual total recovery in this settlement. The Eiland Law Firm believes that these fees should be paid from the common fund, and not from a farmer’s award, so that farmers who exercised their right to bring an individual case, accepted the risk of bringing an individual case, and whose individual cases created pressure on Syngenta, are not treated differently (i.e., unfairly recover less) than farmers who did not make the same contributions and did not take on the same risk of those who brought individual cases.

At this time, it is impossible to determine the exact contingency fee award that the Eiland Law Firm will or could have received under its contracts. However, this amount can be easily calculated at the end of the claims deadline when it will be known, with specificity, how many of the Eiland Law Firm's clients participated in the settlement process.¹ The Eiland Law Firm will accept this contractual fee award, no matter what the amount turns out to be.

Until the Claims Deadline expires, for illustrative purposes, there is data available to the Court to help it make general estimates. The United States Department of Agriculture ("USDA") reported 87,451,000 corn acres harvested for 2013.² Using USDA's 2013 statistics, and an available settlement fund of $1,457,000,000 (discounted for ethanol plants and grain handlers) each acre of harvested corn would be compensated at $16.66 per acre under the settlement. For purposes of this estimation, the Eiland Law Firm has rounded down the amount of acres it believes its clients will submit to the settlement to 850,000. Using this acreage estimate, assuming a 100% settlement participation rate, the Eiland Law Firm's anticipated fee would be approximately $4,673,123 million (on a contingency of 33 and 1/3%); assuming a 50% settlement participation rate, the Eiland Law Firm's anticipated fee would be approximately $9,346,260 million. We believe a participation rate of 50% or less is realistic.

B. The Johnson Factors

If the Court does not ultimately elect to enforce the contingency fee agreements in this case, in that instance, as noted above, whether the Court applies a "percentage of the fund," "lodestar," or a hybrid method to calculate attorneys' fee awards, the Tenth Circuit utilizes the factors enumerated in Johnson v. Georgia Highway Express ("Johnson factors") to evaluate the reasonableness of a request for attorneys' fees. Rosenbaum, 64 F.3d at 1445. The twelve Johnson factors are: (1) the time and labor required; (2) the novelty and difficulty of the questions presented in the case; (3) the skill required; (4) the preclusion of other employment by the attorneys due to acceptance of the case; (5) the customary fee; (6) whether the fee is fixed or contingent; (7) any time limitations imposed by the client or the circumstances (not applicable here); (8) the amount involved and the results obtained; (9) the experience, reputation, and ability of the attorneys; (10) the “undesirability” of the case (not applicable here); (11) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; and (12) awards in similar cases.

² USDA Statistics available at: https://www.nass.usda.gov/Statistics_by_Subject/result.php?22D644C3-2BB2-3E19-A2D3-2622679D6EE5&sector=CROPS&group=FIELD%20CROPS&comm=CORN.

Rarely are all twelve Johnson factors applicable—particularly in a common fund case. Uselton, 9 F.3d at 854; Brown v. Phillips Petro. Co., 838 F.2d 451, 456 (10th Cir. 1988). Under each of the relevant factors, as outlined below, the Eiland Law Firm’s fee request is appropriate.

i. Time and Labor Required Factors 1 & 4

The Eiland Law Firm attorneys and staff expended considerable hours on this case, surpassing 12,640 combined hours since 2015. Eiland Dec. at ¶¶ 5 and 8. This factor is less influential in common fund cases, but “it is a relevant factor and the availability of contemporaneous time records enhances the trial court’s ability to properly evaluate it.” Brown, 838 F.2d at 456 n. 3. A comprehensive breakdown of time and billing is attached in Exhibits A and B (filed under seal) to the Eiland Declaration and a summary of those documents is provided here:

Name	Title	Hours	Rate	Total
C. Eiland	Attorney	3,520	$750	$2,640,000
A. Rankin	Attorney	3,520	$500	$1,760,000
Staff – various	Legal Assistant	5,600	$125	$700,000

The hours that the Eiland Law Firm attorneys and staff spent on this case covered many tasks, including client outreach and claims investigation, legal research, case work-up, database management, case filing, discovery review, travel, hearings, and motion practice. The significant work completed by the Eiland Law Firm positioned its clients in such a way that every claim was being prepared as if it would one day go to trial. Investigating and managing its clients and their legal claims in this manner took significant time, effort, and skill. This effort contributed to the significant recovery obtained on behalf of all plaintiffs in this case.

Unlike some law firms, the Eiland Law Firm cannot pursue every single case that comes along. When it picks a matter to pursue, with adequate but not unlimited staff and resources, that means that other matters cannot be pursued. As a result of its commitment to the Syngenta litigation, the firm had to pass on pursuing hernia mesh litigation, opioid litigation, California wildfire litigation, and others.

ii. Case Difficulty and Skill Factors 2, 3, 9

Factors two (difficulty of case), three (skill required to perform the service) and nine (experience and reputation of the attorneys involved) are also intertwined. This case is highly complex. Procedurally, the attorneys had to navigate class actions involving state and federal law, multidistrict litigation, and stay up-to-date with the developments in the law of several jurisdictions. The Eiland Law Firm represents producers from Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, and Texas. To properly advise its clients, the Eiland Law Firm attorneys became well-versed with several areas of the law, including economic loss doctrine, limitations issues, the Warehouse Act, The Grain Standards Act, class action law, and intra-jurisdictional and cross-jurisdictional class action tolling, among others. The firm also remained abreast of the relevant substantive law of Nebraska, Texas, Kansas and Iowa where Eiland Law Firm clients live and farm. These included areas of various state common law torts, consumer fraud law, and damages, among others.

At a substantive level, this case concerned global economics and the effect of foreign embargoes on domestic markets. To call the issues in this case complex is an understatement. The sheer number of hours expended by the Eiland Law Firm, as well as other plaintiffs' counsel, should confirm the difficulty and complexities of this case. Indeed, this Court has recognized that case complexity can be evidenced by the number of hours counsel spends on the case. See Bailes, 2017 WL 4578927 at *4–5.

The Eiland Law Firm was able to handle the complexities of this case because it has been litigating complex mass-tort and class action cases for several years. Specifically, attorney Craig Eiland has over 30 years of experience with most of that time dedicated to complex litigation. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 6. Mr. Eiland has been appointed leadership roles in the In re: Hurricane Ike Residential and Commercial Property Claim Litigation; in the District Court of Galveston County, Texas; 212th Judicial District; and in the class action settlement in the related Hurricane Ike “Slab” cases; and also in the In Re: Texas City BP Explosion cases. The Eiland Law Firm has also worked up three bellwether cases for trial in the Transvaginal Mesh Boston Scientific MDL and 80 cases in the AMS Transvaginal Mesh Litigation. Additionally, although not formalized, Mr. Eiland is taking a lead role in the Route 91 Harvest Festival shooting cases in Las Vegas. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 6. The Eiland Law Firm's experience, especially in the realm of complex litigation, weighs in favor of finding this its fee request is reasonable. See Bailes, 2017 WL 4758927 at *6.

iii. Amount Involved and Results Obtained Factor 8

The amount of damage caused by Syngenta (and others) was significant. Therefore, the common fund recovery of $1.5 billion in this case is significant. The Eiland Law Firm is not suggesting that the case would not have settled without the threat of individual lawsuits. However, the large number of individual lawsuits from producers who chose to opt-out of the class and the vigorous prosecution of those lawsuits by firms including the Eiland Law Firm was instrumental in the settlement amount being pushed upwards. While individual recoveries are not yet known, producers have the opportunity to realize a meaningful recovery in this case, and that would not have occurred but-for the pressure applied by individual litigants and the work of their attorneys.

iv. Relationship with Clients Factor 11

The nature and length of relationship with clients is relevant here, and should be given considerable weight. The Eiland Law Firm decided to pursue this litigation partly because attorney Aaron Rankin grew up in Nebraska, went to undergrad and law school in Nebraska, and has friends and family that are corn farmers. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 6. Thus, it has been a personal crusade to represent these clients. Our representation has involved hundreds of hours spent on the phone, mailings with case updates and settlement information, meeting with clients individually, and hosting various client meetings in small towns across the Nebraska and also in Texas. Eiland Dec. at ¶ 11. Throughout the course of this litigation, the Eiland Law Firm attorneys and staff have prepared and filed client's cases, engaged in discovery on their behalf, explained their legal rights and guided their decisions—including the right to opt-out of the nationwide class action—and have kept them apprised on the status of the case as it progressed into settlement. The Eiland Law Firm continues to work, each and every day, to help clients complete their claim forms and to get those claim forms submitted.

v. Customary and Similar Fees Factors 5, 6 & 12

This factor is discussed at length above. “The percentage of the recovery agreed to is helpful in demonstrating the attorney’s fee expectations when he accepted the case.” Johnson, 488

F.2d at 718. Here, the Eiland Law Firm is simply requesting the fee that what it was anticipating under its own agreements. This factor, therefore, is further evidence that the Eiland Law Firm's fee request is reasonable.

C. Lodestar Crosscheck

Courts across the Tenth Circuit, including this district, regularly calculate a fee award under the lodestar method as a "crosscheck" on the reasonableness of the fee request. See Cox v. Sprint Commc'ns Co. L.P., No. 6:10-cv-01262-KGG, 2012 WL 5512381 at *3 (D. Kan. Nov. 14, 2012), Campbell v. C.R. England, Inc., No. 2:13-cv-00262, 2015 WL 5773709 at *7 n. 5 (D. Utah Sept. 20, 2015) (using use of lodestar crosscheck to determine if the multiplier is within reasonable range). As part of its analysis, the Court must "determine what lawyers of comparable skill and experience practicing in the area in which the litigation occurs would charge for their time." Case v. Unified School Dist. No. 233, Johnson Cty., Kan., 157 F.3d 1243, 1256 (10th Cir. 1998) (quoting Ramos v. Lamm, 713 F.2d 546, 555 (10th Cir. 1983)).

First, the Eiland Law Firm's hourly rates are appropriate because they are in line with fees other lawyers with similar experience and results. Second, the Eiland Law Firm's hours expended on this case are fair and reasonable because each hour spent on this case was done in a calculated manner that helped advance the individual client's claim and also the broader litigation. It is common for courts in these type of cases to apply lodestar multipliers. The hours and rates submitted by the Eiland Law Firm are fair and accurate, and a lodestar multiplier of 1.5 is well within the normal range applied by this District and the Tenth Circuit. The Eiland Law Firm's fee request is reasonable when cross-checked by the lodestar analysis and, therefore, should be granted.

III. The Eiland Law Firm's Expenses Are Reasonable and Should be Reimbursed.

The Eiland Law Firm seeks approval of out-of-pocket litigation expenses in the amount of $53,685.31. See Exhibit C attached to the Eiland Declaration (Exhibit C filed under seal). This amount covers expenses actually incurred, and does not seek future expenses. The Eiland Law Firm will continue to incur expenses as it assists its clients with the submission of their claim forms and the firm will not seek reimbursement for these expenses. The expenses incurred by the Eiland Law Firm include client mailings and communications, filing fees, and travel expenditures, among others. The Eiland Law Firm limits its request for reimbursement to the reasonable expenses that were necessary to effectively investigate and litigate its clients' claims, and to keep its clients informed of the events and developments in this litigation. The expenses sought here by the Eiland Law Firm were necessary for the effective the prosecution of this litigation. For this reason, the Eiland Law Firm respectfully asks the Court to reimburse these expenses.

CONCLUSION

For the above reasons, the Eiland Law Firm respectfully requests that this Court grant its Motion for Award of Attorneys' Fee and Reimbursement of Expenses.

DECLARATION OF A. CRAIG EILAND IN SUPPORT OF THE EILAND LAW FIRM'S MOTION FOR AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES AND REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES

I, A. Craig Eiland, declare as follows:

1. My full name is Allen Craig Eiland. I have been licensed to practice law in Texas since 1987. I am the President of the Law Offices of A. Craig Eiland, PC (hereinafter, the "Firm") which is located in Austin and Galveston, Texas. I have personal knowledge of the matters set forth in this affidavit and, if called as a witness, I could and would testify competently on the matters.
2. I submit this declaration in support of the Firm's Motion for Award of Attorneys' Fees and Expense Reimbursement (the "Motion"), filed pursuant to Section 7.2.1 of the Syngenta

Settlement Agreement (the “Settlement Agreement”) in In Re: Syngenta AG MIR 162 Corn Litigation, a multi-district litigation consolidated in the United States District Court for the District of Kansas before Hon. John W. Lungstrum (MDL-2591), and In Re: Syngenta Litigation, a Minnesota Consolidated Proceeding consolidated in the Fourth Judicial District Court, Hennepin County, Minnesota, before Hon. Laurie Miller (formerly Hon. Thomas Sipkins) (File Nos. 27-CV-15-3785 & 27-cv-15-12625); In re Syngenta Mass Tort Litigation in front of the Honorable David R. Herndon in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Illinois (Case No. 3:16-cv-00255-DRH); and Illinois State Court consolidation before the Honorable Bradley K. Bleyer; Browning, et al. v. Syngenta Seeds, Inc., et al., No. 15-L-157 (First Judicial Circuit Court, Williamson County, IL).

3. The Firm represents 1146 producers and landlords in the litigation against Syngenta on a contingency fee basis. See Ex. A. – Individual Client Timesheet (filed under seal), which is a true and accurate list of these clients as generated by the Firm’s records. These producers and landlords comprise approximately 900,000 acres of corn. Generally, these clients agreed to written contingent fee agreements ranging from 30% (plus expenses) to 40% (no expenses) of any recovery in this matter. As these were contingent fee agreements, the Firm advanced court costs and litigation expenses and will only be compensated if the clients recover money.

4. Because the Firm’s representation is on a contingency basis, the Firm did not precisely track the time spent on this litigation since it was not anticipated that this would be necessary. That said, based on the review of my e-mails, notes, document review software, and other client and litigation materials, I have retrospectively recreated my time spent on this litigation as set forth in this Declaration and Motion. It is important to note that this is a conservative recreation of time as no joint representation referral lawyer time is included although they also spent significant time on behalf of the clients.

5. I estimate that my Firm's actual attorney time spent on this litigation is 7,041 hours, which is $6,600,937 in fees at our lawyers' usual and customary hourly rate of $750 and $500 and using a conservative loadstar multiplier of 1.5. A true and accurate listing of the hours generated by my Firm is contained in Exhibit A (individual client hours) and Exhibit B (common benefit hours). The individuals, other than myself, who worked on this matter include Aaron Rankin (attorney), Austin Martin (attorney), Maria Pardo (legal assistant), Kathy Hayles (legal assistant), Tereasa Reagan (legal assistant), Cynthia Rice (legal assistant), and Teri Bradley (legal assistant).

6. I have 30 years of experience as a trial lawyer. Over the past 15 years I have devoted a majority of my practice to mass torts and complex multidistrict litigation. Because of the number of trials and my reputation, I am a member of the American Board of Trial Advocates. As a result of numerous multimillion dollar verdicts, I am a member of the Million Dollar Advocates forum. I have spoken at numerous legal seminars. Because of my reputation, demonstrated case development skills and results, I have been retained by numerous governmental agencies in the State of Texas (cities, counties, and school districts) to pursue litigation on their behalf. An example of complex litigation handled by the Firm includes working up three bellwether cases for trial in the Boston Scientific Transvaginal Mesh MDL, and another 80 bellwether cases in the AMS Transvaginal Mesh Litigation. I have served in leadership roles (PSC or Executive Committee) in the In re: Hurricane Ike Residential and Commercial Property Claim Litigation; in the District Court of Galveston County, Texas; 212th Judicial District; and in the class action settlement in the related Hurricane Ike "Slab" cases; and also in the In Re: Texas City BP Explosion cases. In addition, although not formalized at this time, my Firm is one of four

Firms leading the Route 91 Harvest Festival Mass Shooting cases against Mandalay Bay and MGM.

7. Throughout his eleven-year career, Aaron Rankin has developed a reputation for being an experienced commercial litigator. Mr. Rankin spent the first five years of his career litigating cases at one of the world's largest law firms. Currently, Mr. Rankin devotes the majority of his practice to the areas of mass agricultural torts, personal injury, products liability, and insurance disputes, though he also has successfully litigated large, complex construction defect lawsuits. Mr. Rankin has been named a Texas Super Lawyer Rising Star (a Thomson Reuters service) in 2017 and 2016 – an honor bestowed on less than 2.5% of lawyers practicing in Texas, which recognizes the top Texas lawyers ages 40 or younger or have been practicing for ten year or less. He was also recently selected to become a member of the National Trial Lawyers: Top 40 Under 40 in the State of Texas for 2018. Mr. Rankin was born and raised in Nebraska and attended college and law school there. Mr. Rankin has family members and friends who are corn farmers.

8. I estimate that my Firm's legal assistant time spent on this litigation is 5,600 hours, which is $700,000 at the usual and customary rate of $125 per hour. One legal assistant has devoted a minimum of 80% of her time on this matter for the last three and a half years.

9. The Firm also incurred $53,685 in expenses. A true and accurate list of the expenses generated by the Firm is contained in Exhibit C – Eiland Firm Expenses (filed under seal).

10. The Firm has acted as lead counsel for its clients in this litigation and is filing a Motion for Award of Attorneys' Fees and Expense Reimbursement based on the clients' gross recoveries under the Settlement Agreement and the private fee contracts with each such client. The Firm is seeking payment of its contractually agreed upon fees and expense reimbursement from any fund created to pay attorneys' fees and expenses arising out of the preliminarily approved Syngenta litigation settlement.

11. Beginning in January 2015, the Firm spent years meeting with producers across the country, primarily in Nebraska, Iowa and Texas, discussing Syngenta's conduct, the litigation, and what options were available to these producers in order to recover some or all of their losses related to Syngenta's conduct. We have continued to work with our clients since this time. Over the course of this litigation my Firm has sent fourteen update letters to all of our clients. These update letters ranged from general case updates to updates on important case-specific developments such as key deadlines, class exclusion, case filing, settlement, and making a settlement claim.

12. The Firm also assisted its clients in gathering and reviewing the farm records initially required by the Court in order to pursue a claim. To date, my Firm has reviewed and analyzed approximately 50,000 pages of client farm records. These records include FSA Form 578s, crop insurance, seed corn purchase information, grain sales contracts, and settlement statements.

13. During the opt-out period of the case, the Firm communicated with our clients regarding their decision to opt-out or stay in the nationwide class. All told, over 92% of the Firm's clients excluded themselves from the class action. This was a significant amount of work and involved hundreds of hours of time corresponding and communicating with our clients. We also provided each client with an opt-out packet, which included an Exclusion Request Form, an informational and explanatory letter, and a pre-paid return envelope.

14. The Firm has over 834 cases on file in front of Judge Bleyer in the Circuit Court of the First Judicial Circuit in Williamson County, Illinois. The Firm has been working in conjunction with Lead Counsel in this Illinois State Court consolidation. The Firm has attended and participated in Status Conferences, has been involved in various briefing efforts, and was involved in document review, expert development, and discovery.

15. The Firm has coordinated its efforts with the Illinois Leadership Group, which includes the firms of Phipps Anderson Deacon LLP, Clark Love Huston, GP, Meyers & Flowers, LLC, and Johnson Becker PLLC. This coordinated effort included near daily communications regarding case strategy and next steps, numerous meetings, travel to status conferences and key hearings, assisting in legal research and briefing efforts, and participating in Syngenta document review, and other discovery matters. The Firm has spent hundreds of hours reviewing Syngenta ESI for key witnesses and has prepared custodial files and deposition outlines for same. This work and time has been retroactively compiled and is reflected in the attached Exhibit B (filed under seal).

16. Throughout the course of this litigation, the Firm has spent a significant amount of time on research on behalf of its clients, much of which benefitted all producers. This included an analysis of the application of the economic loss doctrine (particularly, as to its application in Nebraska and Texas), limitations issues, substantive state law, and an analysis of cross-jurisdictional and intra-jurisdictional class action tolling law based on the principles set forth in America Pipe & Const. Co. v. Utah, 414 U.S. 538 (1974).

17. The Eiland Law Firm also spent a significant amount of time along with other Illinois opt-out counsel researching and investigating opening another avenue for litigation against Syngenta in New York state court.

18. The Firm sent an update letter to its clients shortly after the tentative settlement agreement was announced in October of 2017 and continued to update all clients on the settlement process in subsequent update letters. Once the settlement was preliminarily approved, and in accordance with the Court's guidelines, the Firm sent a settlement packet to each client informing them of the details of the settlement, recommending the settlement to them, and, most importantly, sending them claim forms with a significant amount of information pre-filled, along with instructions for completing and submitting the claim form. This settlement packet has proven to be extremely helpful to our clients and has helped ensure that they are submitting correct claim forms on behalf of all of their eligible interests.

19. The Firm continues to assist its clients in completing and submitting claim forms and answering any questions that our clients have about the settlement and claims process. To date, the Firm has assisted nearly 70% of its clients in preparing and finalizing claim forms. The Eiland Law Firm will continue this process until all of its client's claims are submitted.

I declare under penalty of perjury pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on this 10th day of July, 2018.
