

Hossley-Embry with its co-counsel have filed over 650 individual corn producing farmers' cases, each with their own separate cause number. All of these individually filed cases are now pending before this Honorable MDL Court. For every client represented by Hossley-Embry and its co-counsel, each client entered into a 33% contingency fee agreement with Hossley-Embry. Moreover, Hossley-Embry Plaintiffs' counsel agreed not to charge their clients any expenses related to the litigation of their claims. Simply put, Hossley-Embry counsel has a straight one-third two-third's agreement with each and every client they represent.

Despite spending thousands of man-hours (i) preparing their clients' cases for filing; (ii) responding to deadlines imposed by the this Honorable Court with preparing the Plaintiffs' Fact Sheets; (iii) preparing and assisting two bellwether clients through the discovery process; (iv) preparing for and attending hearings, trials and status conferences, (iv) regularly updating its clients via mail, email, phones calls, and in-person meetings, (v) ordering records for corn seed distributors and salesmen, FSA offices, corp insurance offices across the states of South Dakota, North Dakota, Minnesota, and Iowa; and (vi) now preparing and assisting their clients with filing their claim forms, Hossley-Embry and its co-counsel have not been compensated for representing their clients and will only be compensated upon the clients' recovery under the settlement.

WHEREFORE, the Hossley-Embry Plaintiffs respectfully request the Court to allow the Hossley-Embry Plaintiffs to (i) honor the contingent fee contracts they have with Hossley-Embry and its co-counsel, (ii) award Hossley-Embry their contractual 33% contingency fee pursuant to the fee agreement with each of their clients, and (iii) grant them such other and further relief to which they are justly entitled.
